ROLE PLAY

Learning Through Real-Life Experiences

At Juju International Preschool, we believe that children learn best when they experience the world around them in a hands-on, playful way.

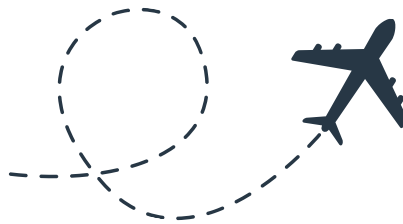

On August 9, 2025, our little learners enthusiastically participated in a Role Play Activity where they dressed up as Community Helpers and explored their roles and responsibilities in society.

The activity was designed to introduce children to the importance of different professions and how each one contributes to our everyday lives.

To make learning more realistic, we set up workspaces within the school that resembled real-life environments, allowing children to explore the tools, kits, and duties associated with each profession.

Airhostess – Children learned how airhostesses greet passengers, ensure safety on board, and make traveling comfortable.

Army Officer – Kids saluted smartly, showcasing how the army protects our nation and keeps us safe.

Postman – Carrying letters, our postmen delivered “mail” to their friends, showing the role of postal services.

Chef – With aprons and hats, kids acted as chefs, preparing pretend meals and serving healthy food.

Engineer – Using tools and blocks, our little engineers built models and learned how engineers design and create.

Fire Fighter – Dressed in helmets, our little firefighters
bravely acted out
saving people
from fire and keeping communities safe.

Teacher – Standing with books and chalk, children role-
played as teachers,
sharing knowledge
with their classmates.

Vegetable Vendor – With baskets full of vegetables, children acted as vendors, practicing simple trade and communication.

Banker – Children discovered how bankers manage money, help people save, and keep our economy strong.

Doctor – Dressed in white coats, kids played the role of doctors, checking health and spreading care.

Nurse – With stethoscopes and first-aid kits, children experienced how nurses support patients with love and attention.

Police Officer – With caps and whistles, children played police officers, learning about discipline, law, and safety.

Farmer – Kids planted seeds, carried baskets, and learned how farmers grow food for everyone.

Learning Outcomes:

- Children developed confidence and communication skills through dialogues and role enactment.
- They gained awareness of community helpers and their contributions to society.
- The play-way method helped them connect classroom learning to real-life experiences.
- Teamwork, respect, and responsibility were nurtured in every child.

It was truly heartwarming to see our little ones transform into community helpers, embracing their roles with joy and pride. Activities like these reflect our belief in holistic, experiential learning that prepares children to understand, respect, and value the world they live in.

 At Juju, learning is not just about books—it's about living the lesson!

TEACHERS CORNER

CREATING A POSITIVE AND LOVING LEARNING SPACE

At JUJU International Preschool, our teachers are more than educators—they are facilitators of curiosity, creativity, and confidence.

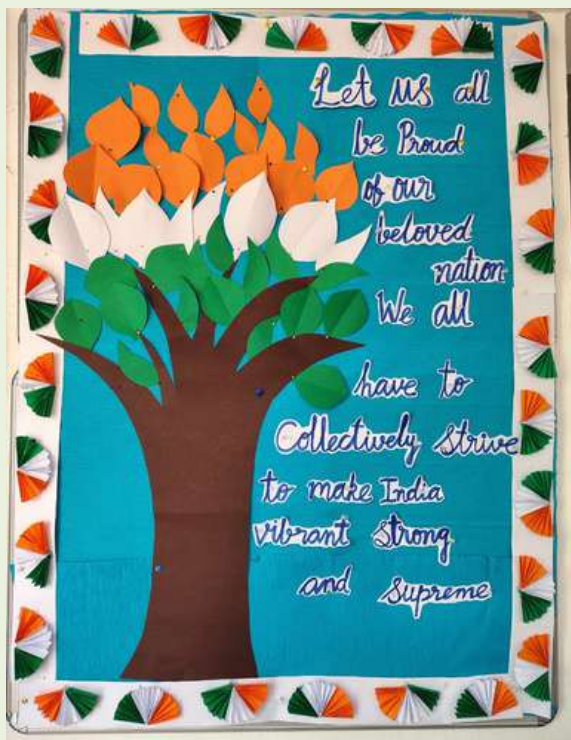

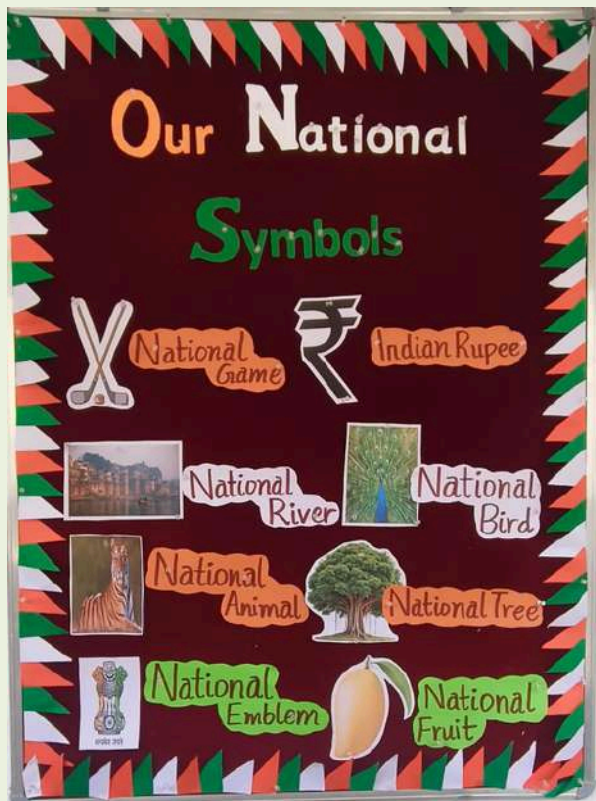

In the month of August, our classrooms are filled with excitement as children explore the theme “Our Community Helpers.” Through this theme, little ones are learning to recognize and appreciate the people who make our daily lives safe, healthy, and comfortable—like doctors, teachers, firefighters, police officers, farmers, and many more. Engaging activities, stories, and role plays are helping children understand the importance of responsibility, service, and teamwork in a community. This theme not only builds gratitude but also inspires them to dream about the roles they can play in the future.

Our educators continue to work with passion and purpose, making learning meaningful and memorable for our little stars.
